Skincare Masterclass

"Because a woman's skin should be her number one accessory."

Welcome to the Skincare Masterclass

You are embarking on a journey into the heart of your skin. In this Skincare Masterclass, you will learn about the skin, skincare and how to best look after and maintain a healthy glowing complexion for yourself and your customers. We will take you through the ways you can effectively analyse your skin as well as your customers.

Face the Facts

The skin is the largest organ in the body. It weighs approximately three kilos and covers the entire body. It is the thickest on the palms of the hands and the soles of the feet, and is thinnest on the eyelids. The skin is essential to the health and the life of the body, yet is also vulnerable as it is constantly exposed to the environment. The skin works 24 hours a day and performs important functions such as:

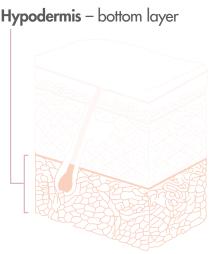

- Protecting the body from the environment
- Regulating body temperature
- Eliminating waste materials
- Helping to retain vital moisture and elements
- Giving us our individual beauty

Skin Structure - Let's explore the 3 layers

- Epidermis top layer
- Made up of millions of living cells and Cell Renewal takes place
- This is the outer layer of the skin and is responsible for the protection and control of water loss that regulates skin hydration

- This layer is the skins 'foundation'
- Consists of Collagen and Elastin which provides skin's form, shape and elasticity

- Cushions and supports the top 2 layers
- Supportive layer of the skin that provides smoothness and contour to the skin and body

Collagen

Collagen is the main structural component of connective tissue found in tendons and ligaments. The middle layer of the skin (dermis) is also mostly made up of collagen. Collagen molecules cluster throughout the dermis and are responsible for the skin's firmness and resilience. Cellular proteins change shape as we age. These changes stop the proteins from doing their job properly, resulting in a loss of collagen and firmness of body tissue, resulting in wrinkles. To prevent the ageing process, reduce wrinkles and improve the skin's texture, it is important to reduce collagen breakdown and increase supply by stimulating the cells.

Elastin

Elastin, along with collagen, is a protein connective tissue and is a key structural component of bones, cartilage, tendons, the skin, lung tissue and blood vessels. Think of your sofa...if collagen provides structure and firmness to body tissue (the foam cushions in your sofa), then elastin provides flexibility to those same tissues (the springs). Elastin allows tissue in the body to return to its shape after stretching or contracting. If you think about this in relation to the skin, elastin acts as a foundation and assists skin to resume its original position after being padded or pinched.

BEAUTY TIP – The pinch test

You can test the elastin level in your skin by pinching the back of your hand and watching how quickly it snaps back into position when you release it. The faster it springs back, the better your elastin.

What is your Skin Type?

Oily skin

- Overall shine to the face
- Coarse, uneven, thick texture
- Enlarged, highly visible pores
- Prone to breakouts, blemishes and blackheads

Dry skin

- Lack of oil, causing a tight and uncomfortable feel
- Pores are almost invisible
- Fine and dry appearance
- Tends to be sensitive

Combination skin

- Shine on T-Zone
- Cheeks are slightly dry or normal
- Prone to breakouts and blemishes
- Pores in T-Zone area are enlarged
- Most common skin type

Normal skin

- Skin is clear, smooth texture with little or no shine
- Pores are normal size and evenly distributed
- Skin is neither oily or dry

Do you suffer from any Skin Conditions?

Sensitive skin

- Hot/warm to touch
- Thin and fine textured
- Prone to becoming red and blotchy
- Broken capillaries
- Easily irritated by products and ingredients
- Easily associated with a dry skin

Sun damaged / pigmented / uneven skin

- Dark or uneven pigmentation
- Loss of elasticity and lack of firmness
- Premature ageing lines and wrinkles more visible
- Leathery appearance

Dehydrated skin

- Fine, criss-crossed lines, especially around the cheek area
- Has a tight feeling, particularly around the eye and mouth area
- Crepey appearance
- Fine papery lines around cheek, lip and eye area

Problem blemished skin

- Prone to pimples and blackheads
- Most common in oily skin
- Heavy shine or oily in T-Zone area
- Congestion in the T-Zone area
- Enlarged pores
- Coarse complexion

Mature / ageing skin

- Skin becomes thinner
- Lines and wrinkles develop
- Age spots develop
- Loss of firmness and elasticity

Let's take a look at the face chart below and analyse your skin.

Do you suffer from any skin conditions?

How does the Skin age?

Let's take a look at a decade by decade skin guide.

20's

- Skin cells regenerate at top speed
- Smooth and radiant complexion
- Firm and plentiful collagen and elastin

30's

- Ageing, stress of a career or pregnancy can lead to changes
- Few fine lines around the eyes and mouth
  - Some loss of skin tone

40's

- Deeper wrinkles and less elasticity
- Decline in oestrogen hormone
- No ability to retain moisture

50's+

- Underlying skin cells flatten, causing thinner skin
  - Lower levels of collagen and elastin can cause sagging of skin
- Increasingly drier skin

How should I care for my Skin?

Since your skin will be with you for your entire life, it's important that you take care of it. Obviously it's easier to maintain your skin than it is to repair damaged skin, but never assume it's too late! Nutrimetics has many products available to help you care for your skin, regardless of your age.

Daily Skin Maintenance (AM & PM)

concerns.

Weekly Skin Maintenance

EXFOLIATION

Exfoliators are designed to remove dry, dead skin cells on the surface of the skin. If the dead skin cells are not removed, the skin's surface can become thicker, pores become clogged and products do not effectively work on the skin.

FACIAL MASQUE

Masques are designed to act on a deeper level, they help to purify, hydrate or firm the skin. You can use a face masque 1-2 times per week.

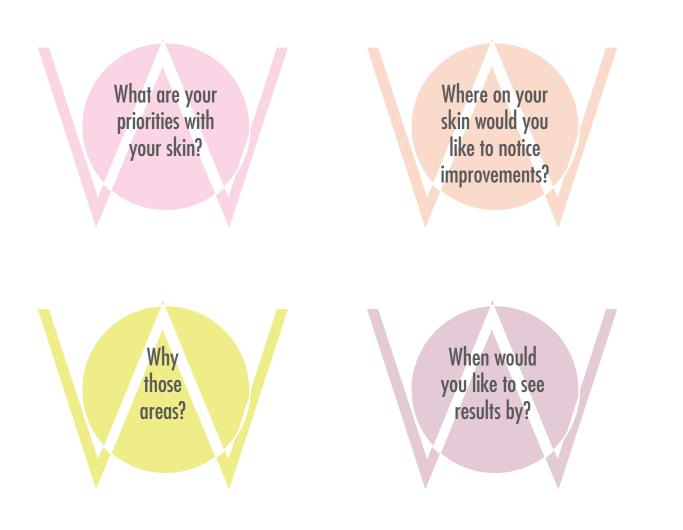

become more visible.

How to recommend products

Ask questions:

- The ' 4 W's ' (see below)
- Do you experience oil throughout the day?
- Do you experience discomfort like tightness, dryness or flakiness?
- Do you often get breakouts?
- What products are you currently using?
- What is your current skincare regime?
